Compass

Compass is an on-line cultural resource database administered by the Colorado Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation (OAHP). This system was developed with a grant from the State Historical Fund and endeavors to provide qualified individuals with access to many of the fields currently available from the main OAHP database. The information stored in Compass allows the user to perform searches based on locational parameters in addition to searches using site attribute and management criteria.

Summarized below are several important points of interest to potential Compass users:

- Restricted Access: Certain modules of Compass require specific qualifications. Criteria for access to those modules are based on the Dissemination of Information - Access to Site Files: Policy/Procedures (2002). User applications will be reviewed in accordance with the policy, and registration privileges may be limited to partial access.
- OAHP Database: This system does not replace the main OAHP database at the Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation. Compass is a sub-set of the main database with its primary emphasis on sites as opposed to documents or projects. The OAHP database, which contains hundreds of fields not included in Compass, will continue to be maintained and accessed as it has been in the past.
- Data Limitations and Corrections: The data available through Compass is not complete, may be inaccurate, and will be changed as new information arrives. We expect problems with the data. These problems may be the result of mistakes on site forms, incomplete or inaccurate encoding of the information into the database, and/or missing data. We will make every attempt to correct the problems as soon as possible. Please let us know when you discover problems by notifying us via e-mail: Compass@state.co.us.
- User Tracking: The use of Compass is monitored through various tracking procedures. Tracking includes identification of the user, duration of the visit, and a record of information accessed. This information is used for system assessment and security purposes.
- Images: Two types of images are currently available through Compass: images of the National and State Register forms and selected images from slides and photographs in the OAHP collection. A camera icon appears next to the search results when images are available for a particular site or document. Documents and some non-register site forms are available as PDF files.
- Updating the Data: The data in Compass will be updated monthly by downloading newly encoded data from the OAHP database. Site forms and surveys are generally entered into the OAHP database within three months of being received by OAHP.
- Future Enhancements: Compass features will continue to expand and improve over the years. Your suggestions and comments regarding possible future modifications are welcome and important to us (Compass@state.co.us).

We offer qualified users a ten-day trial period to allow them a chance to become familiar with the system. A subscription to use the system beyond the trial period is a nonrefundable and charged at the following rates:

of Employees	Compass Subscription Price
1-3	$250.00
4-10	$500.00
>10	$1,000.00

The subscription fee is waived for the staff of non-profit and Higher Education organizations

If you are interested in taking advantage of the trial period please complete the attached Compass: INDIVIDUAL USER APPLICATION AND AGREEMENT.

If you would like to apply for an annual subscription, please complete one copy of the Compass: ORGANIZATIONAL REGISTRATION APPLICATION AND AGREEMENT in addition to Compass: INDIVIDUAL USER APPLICATION AND AGREEMENT for each staff member requesting access. 7. OAHF, its officers and staff, are harmless against any claims by third parties arising out of the use of the data in Compass.
8. Access may be interrupted without warning due to technical difficulties.

Nonetheless, obtaining information on previously recorded cultural resources does not constitute review under Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act or the State Register of Historic Properties Act.
10. This agreement, and the associated fee, must be renewed annually. No part of the fee is refundable.
11. OAHF retains the right to change passwords at any time with appropriate notification to the user.
