

PUBLICATIONS OF HISTORY COLORADO

History Colorado produces a quarterly magazine—Colorado Heritage—for its members. Heritage focuses on the continuities of history and culture in the state and region—on past events, people, and issues that have made a mark on the present. History Colorado members receive Colorado Heritage in the mail or via email four times a year. Individual copies are available for a $10 retrieval, handling, and shipping charge per copy.

Colorado History is an occasional journal series that includes volumes of essays as well as self-titled book-length monographs on the history of Colorado and the Rocky Mountain West. We've published occasional booklets on our exhibits and regional museums, general interest historical studies, exhibition catalogs, and directories and indexes to assist researchers and historians.

In addition, History Colorado publishes the bimonthly Explore calendar and a monthly e-newsletter.

To order most publications in print on the following list, write to publications@state.co.us or Publications, History Colorado, 1200 Broadway, Denver, CO 80203; or, call 303/866-4532. Please add $3 per copy of any book for handling and shipping.

For membership information, contact membership@state.co.us or 303/866-3639.

NOTE: These publications have been produced by the History Colorado (formerly the Colorado Historical Society) Publications Office for retail sale through the History Colorado Center store or wholesale through the Publications Office. For educational materials, call 303/866-4686; for membership information and brochures, call 303/866-3639; and for preservation-related materials, call the Office of Archaeology and Historic Preservation at 303/866-3395.
