Brief Description	Il Circolo Italiano is an Italian group founded in 1953 by Mrs. Milton Shrednik and Dr. Paolo Cannavina, Italian Consul in Denver, as a way to encourage the Italian lifestyle to thrive in Denver and promote an awareness of the Italian culture, music, and language to the community. Language classes of all proficiency ranges are offered and social events are had. Evolving from this is the scholarship fund, which gives students in Colorado the ability to travel to Italy for school courses and bring Italian students to a Colorado college to have an opportunity to gain knowledge of the American traditions, and also learn from the student's Italian traditions as well. It also gives out scholarship money for Colorado students who are taking Italian as a language, either as a high schooler planning on continuing into college, or college students in the process of taking the courses. This collection consists of the organizational records of Il Circolo Italiano including, but not limited to, financial records, correspondence, student folders, scrapbooks, and membership information. Each year is comprised of different files, so it truly depends on what Il Circolo retained for their records on which files are present.

Historical Note

On November 20th, 1953, six people met with Dr. Paolo Cannavina, the Italian Vice Consul in Denver, to organize a group interested in acquiring a knowledge of Italian culture, language, and history. Il Circolo Italiano was formed. By the spring of 1954 membership totaled 57 people. The objectives (By laws) of the group were to-first and foremost, create better relations between Italians and Americans. Importantly also, Il Circolo wanted to make Italian culture, music and art better known and appreciated as well as foster social activities to create a better understanding between groups. This group would be open to persons interested in the artistic and cultural wealth in Italy, whether of Italian descent or not. It would become a social, educational, and special interest group.

One way to enhance the groups educational and social appeal was to start giving courses in Italian. Language classes originally were just beginners courses, but due to the amount of knowledge and interest, advanced classes and conversational groups formed, which took place in the Parish House of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Denver. The group would have approximately one meeting per month and some of the best meetings for the group were honouring Italians as they passed through Denver. This group attributed its rapid growth to publicity through the newspapers and one time TV guest appearance (which TV show it was, is unknown) where members were able to discuss the club.

It was not until the spring of 1955 that the Scholarship fund was created. The group had discussions with Ben Charrington, the Director of the Institute of International Education, as well as the Italian-American community in Denver to create a well guided approach toward their goal. Il Circolo members also had been in talks with the school Presidents of Colorado School of Mines and University of Colorado in Boulder about tuition for the Italian students (leaning towards if the tuition could be free) and that also being a potential option for Colorado students at the University of Bologna (with whom they were speaking to as well). Fulbright scholarships were being looked at too, to pay for transportation for the students.

The first student to benefit from the scholarsip program was a Dr. Aves Badini, an Italian Petroleum Engineer and graduate of University of Bologna who would be attending Colorado School of Mines. Professor Lute Parkinson, head of the Department of Mining Engineering at the School of Mines was the first American to benefit from Il Circolo Italiano, with a grant-in-aid.

Il Circolo Italiano has handled their money well and have been able to establish a consistent scholarship fund each year, which in 2003, during Il Circolo Italiano's 50th anniversary, were able to say they had given over $150,000 in scholarship money and grant-in-aid to students.

The most popular way to receive money for the scholarship fund were through the many activities put on by Il Circolo Italiano. Presentations from Italians, opera singers, or the many club events Il Circolo created helped to support the fund. During any given year, there are a standard few the club puts on that promote Italian culture. Some of the events that take place annually are Pavoratti's Table, Card Game Day, Carnevale, the annual Christmas Party, Ferragosto, and Columbus Day Parade, just to name a few.

Throughout the decades, membership had increased to somewhere around 200 people and has continued to be a presence throughout the Denver and surrounding cities community.

Scope and Contents note

This collection consists mostly of annual files from the board members for the group Il Circolo Italiano. The collection consists of correspondence between board members of Il Circolo, receipts, tax information, board member meeting notes and minutes, treasurer information, invoices for companies and teachers, grant-in-aid forms, grant-in-aid applications, scholarship recipients, quarterly newsletters, membership forms, class registration, and ways and means.

Investigating the files that each year contained, there were a number of them that were constant throughout the years, and other files that only seemed to show about every decade or so. The common overarching files that come up are President's File, Treasurer/Treasury, Secretary, Membership, and Scholarship. Other examples of files are ones that would correlate to one of the overarching file names, such as Receipts, Minutes, Classes, Events, which are just a few of the files listed.

Also included are student files for the scholarship program. The file contains an application written by the student explaining why they want the scholarship, how it will be used with other funds, and the long lasting cultural value it will give them. There are also transcripts and recommendations from teachers on why they deserve the scholarship money (for tuition.) The importance for keeping these files is the fact that the scholarship fund is an integral part of what this group does. In fact, this fund is the primary reason so many events are planned, this is to raise scholarship fund money.

While investigating the roster lists it does seem membership has decreased in the past decade, either from active members getting older or financial restraints, or both. For sure though, they are active in keeping the scholarship fund alive and well.

Record keeping is not thoroughly consistent. The person in charge of record keeping from the formation of the group to the mid 1970's did not vary much in which file folders were made and were consistent in their record keeping. From the late 1970's to the mid 1990's, the person in charge of record keeping included many other files that were deemed worthy of filing. From the late 1990's to the present, the record keeper did not make a big attempt to categorize their records, and the information that survived contained mostly business/financial information.

There is a section entitled miscellaneous files. These files have no distinguishing dates to better place the information into a certain year record. Some of the files contain information pertinent to the functioning of the group, while others such as the International House, are better left kept together instead of dividing the information by year. A few others are Il Circolo master or key pages for items such as membership or scholarship sheets.

Arrangement note

Il Circolo organized their files by year and then by hierarchy within those years. It is in a chronological order and uses the hierarchy of their club offices from most important to least important, (ie President, Treasurer, Secretary etc..) When possible original order was maintained during processing. The exception being the files Secretary and Treasurer, because the Treasurer's job seems more integral to the daily duties that go with this club. After looking at the names of the files already created, a more in depth arrangement was given to help categorize and position files to where they fit properly. The hierarchy of the board directors seems most important and are as follows: President, Treasurer, Secretary, Membership, Scholarship, and if any, Miscellaneous folders. Then, with the files also present such as "Minutes" or "Classes", this is where positioning took place. While I realize "Minutes" may not be a more important file than "Scholarship", it would be a job of the Secretary, and therefore to be with (or behind) the Secretary folder would make more sense than to have "Minutes" after "Scholarship". A special case happens in the Treasurer record in 1967. There was a treasurer ledger including information for Il Circolo from 1955 to 1967. This ledger has been placed in the Treasurer file in the 1966-1967 year.

The collection is arranged chronologically from 1953-2013. After 2000, there was no choice but to impose an order on the documents and papers given. No annual files had been created. Therefore much of the file folders created after 2000 are new to the collection, but still follow the same outline of order of the previous 47 years.
