

HISTORY COLORADO AND THE SMITHSONIAN PRESENT:

NATIONAL YOUTH SUMMIT WOMAN SUFFRAGE: THE BALLOT AND BEYOND

MAY 21, 2019 | 10 AM–1 PM

HISTORY COLORADO CENTER
1200 BROADWAY, DENVER

The National Youth Summit brings middle and high school students together with scholars, teachers, policy experts, and activists in a national conversation about important events in America's past that have relevance to the nation's present and future.

As a Smithsonian Affiliate, History Colorado will join the Smithsonian Institution and students at five other museums across the country for a live, one-hour webcast. Panelists will examine the woman suffrage movement and women-led activism, exploring the question: Are the tactics used by suffragists to fight for political power still effective?

- What tactics did American suffragists employ? Why might these have been chosen?
- What did suffrage mean for American women? Was it more than getting the vote?
- How does expanding who holds power in a democracy shift its priorities?
- What can young people, and other groups with limited political power, learn from the actions of the suffragists?
- What actions will you take to share your voice and shape the future?

Afterward, a local panel will look at woman suffrage as an example of how groups with limited political power have shaped and continue to shape our democracy.
