Broad Scope of Position: This is a unique and rare opportunity to gain experience and learn at the El Pueblo History Museum. This volunteer internship role provides selected candidates the opportunity to share their passion for history with students in a museum setting. A key function of this position is to facilitate school programs, maintain school program materials, and work closely with museum staff to prepare and present programs. Members will also help in researching sustainability of these programs.

Duties include:

- Lead hands-on informal activities for all educational programs
- Design and scheduling of individual educational programs
- Set up activities and clean up spaces before and after educational programs
- Monitor program supplies and request replenishments when needed
- Additional duties as assigned.

Outcomes: The interns will develop skills in historical interpretation, instruction, and curriculum development, while gaining a fundamental understanding of museum education and operations.

Desired Skills/Academic Field of Study: Current Undergraduate and Graduate Students in Education, History, Anthropology, Museum Studies, Sociology, and Child Development preferred.

- Be enthusiastic, hardworking with excellent organization and communication skills.
- Formal or informal experience working with children ages 5 to 18.
- Desire to learn about education in a museum setting.
- Demonstrated ability to work well under pressure with a positive attitude and creative
