Bakery & Confectionery Workers Union, Local 26

492 pp.

On January 13 1886, delegates representing local bakers unions in 15 cities met in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and organized the Journeymen Bakers National Union of North America. The union received a charter with the AFL in 1887 and, in 1903, when the AFL gave the union jurisdiction over the candy and ice cream workers, its name was changed to the Bakery & Confectionery Workers International of America.

In the 1950s, the McClellan Committee ran an investigation into corruption in the labor movement in the U.S. This investigation led to the president and two vice-presidents of the Bakery Union to be convicted on charges involving bribery and corruption. In 1957, the BCIUA was expelled from the AFL-CIO after its leader failed to institute some reforms demanded by the AFL-CIO. The AFL-CIO then formed its own bakers union, the American Bakery & Confectionery Workers Union International. The two separated groups rejoined in 1969 and they continue today as the Bakery & Confectionery Workers International Union of America.

This collection contains material from the BCWIUA, Local 26 of Denver, including a dues book (1908-1910) and a ledger of meeting minutes (1906-1916).
