

Argentine Central Railway MSS 781 – History Colorado

The Argentine Central Railway was a traction railway which ran from Silver Plume to the top of Mount McClellan. It was organized in 1905 and became the Argentine & Gray's Peak in 1913. It was also known as the Georgetown and Gray's Peak.

Box 1

FF 1: History: Bulletin No. 64 Railway Locomotive Society, 1944; Pamphlet, "Argentine Central," 1906-1912. 2 copies.

FF 2: Promotional Material: Brochures invitation. N.d.